All,

Please see the latest version of the PFAS Annual Update. This version incorporates the edits provided by your program offices. Please review and let Andrea and I know if you have any issues. We will share a modified version of this document with the Administrator on Tuesday.

Thanks,

Subject: For Review: PFAS Annual Update

All,

Late last year, the Administrator asked that we pull together a PFAS report highlighting all of our accomplishments over the past year and marking the one-year anniversary of the PFAS Action Plan. To help get the ball rolling, the AO put together the attached draft report based on the materials that were provided for the January 13, 2020, PFAS briefing as well as other publicly available materials (e.g., press releases, web content).

Please have your programs review the attached report and provide your office's edits in track changes to me and Andrea Drinkard by COB Friday, February 7. We will incorporate your input and provide an updated draft report for the Administrator to review the following week. Our hope is to be ready to release the report when the Administrator delivers a PFAS-focused speech that will mark the one-year anniversary of the plan. The timing and location of the speech is still to be determined, but we expect that it will be within the next month or so.

A few specific points to consider while reviewing:

- 1) There are a number of sections highlighted in yellow. That means that additional information is needed OR the information in that section is either about an action that hasn't been announced yet or that an action is close to being announced/the timing is fluid. Please review those sections with that in mind.
- 2) We focused the report on actions that were included in Table 1 of the PFAS Action Plan, plus other priority actions that came up throughout the year (e.g., PFAS in ag). Feel free to add in updates that are missing or remove updates you don't wish to highlight. At this point, it's not required to include an update on every action included in Table 1.

- 3) This document is a starting point and will go through formatting, layout and copy editing. So if you see something, say something, but no need for a copy edit at this time.

Thank you and please let me or Andrea Drinkard know if you have any questions.
